Charles County Public Library

Opening doors to knowledge, awareness and creativity

The Charles County Public Library (CCPL) was originally formed in 1922 by the Homemaker's Clubs of Charles County with the help of Extension Agent Paul Dennis "PD" Brown. The first library was housed in La Plata on the second floor of the old town jail (which still stands behind the County Courthouse today). The collection contained 3,000 volumes and additional books were delivered by railroad from Baltimore's Enoch Pratt Free Library.

Much has changed since the books arrived by train and were kept in a jail. The Charles County Public Library now has a staff of more than 80 full-time and part-time employees. Our four branches house over 250,000 volumes of printed material, audio books, film, and other documents. Our online collections include databases, Overdrive - our e-book service, Zinio - our online magazine service, as well as our podcasts and videos.

Charles County Public Library—More than just books!
